GEOCHEMISTRY STATISTICS

How to Read This Section

Compares geochemistry within the tenement/AOI boundary against GSWA statewide baselines (10.2M surface + 2.5M drillhole samples). All "area" statistics below refer to samples within this boundary.

Only Moderate and High significance anomalies are shown. Major rock-forming elements (Fe, Al, Si, Ca, etc.) are excluded.

Table Columns

Mean / Median: Area average and middle value. Large gap = data skewed by outliers.

Enrichment: Area mean / WA statewide median. "-" when WA median is below detection.

P99.9%: Area max as % of WA 99.9th percentile. Red if >100% (exceptional or suspect).

Anom%: Samples exceeding 3x the area median. Higher % = pervasive anomaly, not just outliers.

Significance

High: Strong anomaly across multiple metrics — elevated enrichment, max near WA P99.9, or widespread anomalous samples.

Moderate: Notable enrichment or anomalous values in at least one metric.

Deposit types scored by matching detected anomalies to known pathfinder element suites. Higher = stronger affinity.

Surface Geochemistry: 884 samples analyzed

No significant surface geochemical anomalies detected (all elements within typical WA background ranges).

Note: Significance based on WA baseline statistics (10.2M surface samples). Verify outliers against original A-file/WAMEX reports. All 172 elements in CSV export.

Drillhole Geochemistry: 29 intervals analyzed

(Government assay data available for 38% of 76 drillhole locations)

Key Anomalies

- Tungsten (W) — 270.1x enrichment vs WA median
- Silver (Ag) — max 6.7 ppm, detected in 14 samples
- Molybdenum (Mo) — 15.3x enrichment vs WA median
- Thallium (Tl) — max 10 ppm, detected in 10 samples

Significant Intercepts:

Element	n	Mean ppm	Med. ppm	Max ppm	Enrich.	P99.9%	Anom%	Sig.
Precious Metals
Ag	14	1.6	0.80	6.7	-	<1%	21%	Mod
Critical Minerals
W	17	540	16	2540	270.1x	22%	47%	HIGH
Mo	29	15	6.0	95	15.3x	2%	24%	Mod
Other Elements
Tl	10	2.9	1.2	10	-	<1%	20%	Mod

Interpretation

Potential Deposit Types

- Tin-Tungsten (Greisen): Moderate — W, Mo

Note: Significance based on WA drillhole baseline statistics (2.5M samples). Verify outliers against original A-file/WAMEX reports. All 172 elements in CSV export.
